Umang, one of the biggest intercollegiate festivals in Mumbai and the mega event of the Students' Forum was held from August 19, 2012 to August 22, 2012. Then came December and the much awaited Students' Week. It was flagged off by Principal Sunil Mantri on December 17 with a retro Bollywood/Hollywood themed carnival. There were dances, games, tug of war and a competition for the best costume. A photo booth with masks, props and the works was specially created for the students so that they could capture memories of their fun days in college. The second day was devoted to the theme, 'Towards Gender Equality'. As a social experiment, students were asked to show their attitude in a day observed as 'Pink or blue or a combination of the two'. This was followed by Halloween Day which gave considerable scope for blood and gore. We also had the rare spectacle of lectures being conducted in classes full of ghosts and witches. Devil horns, witch hats and masks were on sale. The fourth day was Traditional Day combined with Rose Day. And the final Day was the N.M T -shirt and Hoods Day. The design for the T- shirts this year was created by Pallavi Jain of T.Y.B.Com- A. The next big event was the farewell function for the third year students of B.Com, BMS and BAF. This was held on February 23, 2013 and saw an 800 plus crowd. Cake was cut and the Vice Principals and senior professors addressed the students. After this were the class photographs in convocation robes. Students had unlimited fun as they danced on the tunes of the DJ and enjoyed the delicious food thereafter.
