

Hobby Centre of the Degree College organized its first event for the academic year 2014-15, "WAR WITHOUT WEAPONS", painting without a paint brush, on 24th of July 2014. The event was sponsored by "Infeel" to encourage the hidden talent of the students.

Prior to the event a two hour workshop was organized to train and orient the participants by our own faculty Mrs. Bharti Jain who is an artist herself. She guided the participants with demonstration and actual hands on training in art. Thirty four students participated in the competition. Students used the techniques taught to them in the workshop. Mrs Bharti Jain and Mrs. Soni Patra judged the event. The work of the students was displayed on the notice boards.

As a pre-cursor to the photography competition held in the month of September 2014, the Hobby Centre organized a two hour workshop on 26th August, 2014 for learning the know-how of photography. Mr. Justin, a commercial photographer and an expert in the field of photography oriented the participants. He gave hands on training to the participants and presented his lecture with the help of a PPT presentation.

The Hobby Centre of Degree College conducted its third event of the academic year 2014-15 "RANGOLI COMPETITION". It aimed at helping the students and professors bring out their creative side. The competition was held on the 6th September 2014 to celebrate the festival of Onam. Teachers of degree as well as junior college enthusiastically participated in the event.

The competition was judged by our Vice Principal Prof. Ameer Vora. Three winners were declared and Ms. Vora recommended that a Rangoli Workshop should be conducted by inviting professionals.
