- Teen Politics: This highly successful event was newly introduced this year to test the leadership, management, commitment, and team working skills of the students. After exercising their grey matter in the elims, five teams selected for the finals were given a social cause on which they campaigned throughout the college by sticking charts and flyers and convincing people and ensured that awareness of their social cause was made to the students. On the voting day, around a thousand students voted for their candidate.
- The Aviator: This exciting even allowed the participants to manage an airline company. They had to connect different cities of the world (subject to interesting conditions) in such a way so as to maximize their profits. This gave them training in timing and planning skills required for any management business.
- Mock Stock Exchange: In the Mock Stock Exchange also known as the 'Bulls & Bears', our very own version of the NASDAQ or Dalal Street, the stock market was virtually brought to the students in a realistic yet lucid form. There was actual trading of shares & bullion in a simulated environment. IPO of shares, De-Merger of company and many more facets that practically exist in the stock market were very professionally incorporated in this event. The teams contested very tenaciously amidst high-voltage drama.
- Horizons: This year's official magazine of the Planning Forum-"Horizons" was launched on the 16th by our Vice-Principal Mrs. Vijayam Iyer. The magazine has been specially customized to cater primarily to the interests and needs of the students, and to provide them with a dais to manifest their literary genius. Free copies of the magazine were distributed to all the teachers and students of the college. A horizon not only won accolades from the students but was also loved by the teachers.
