Dale Harbison Carnegie
(November 24, 1888 – November 1, 1955) was an American writer and lecturer and the developer of famous courses in self-improvement, salesmanship, corporate training, public speaking, and interpersonal skills. Born into poverty on a farm in Missouri, he was the author of How to Win Friends and Influence People (1936), a bestseller that remains popular today. He also wrote How to Stop Worrying and Start Living (1948), Lincoln the Unknown (1932), and several other books.

One of the core ideas in his books is that it is possible to change other people's behavior by changing one's behavior toward them.

19 Dale Carnegie Quotes to Inspire You Next Time You Want to Give Up.

(Source: <https://www.postplanner.com/in/spiring-dale-carnegie-quotes/>)

1. Don't give up! Most of the important things in the world have been accomplished by people who have kept on trying when there seemed to be no hope at all.
2. Get busy! If you want to conquer fear, don't sit home and think about it. Go out and get busy.
3. Lose your fear! Fear doesn't exist anywhere except in the mind.
4. Profit from mistakes! The successful man will profit from his mistakes and try again in a different way.
5. Stop self-pity! Feeling sorry for yourself, and your present condition, is not only a waste of energy but the worst habit you could possibly have.

6. Embrace failure! Develop success from failures. Discouragement and failure are two of the surest stepping stones to success.
7. Accept the worst! First ask yourself: what is the worst that can happen? Then prepare to accept it. Then proceed to improve on the worst.
8. Have fun! People rarely succeed unless they have fun in what they are doing.
9. Aim to influence, not convince! Those convinced against their will are of the same opinion still.

10. Find your courage! Most of us have far more courage than we ever dreamed we possessed.

11. Act enthusiastic! If you want to be enthusiastic, act enthusiastic.

12. Stop worrying! Out fatigue is often caused not by work, but by worry, frustration and resentment.

13. Embrace criticism! Remember that unjust criticism is often a disguised compliment.

14. Be persistent! Flaming enthusiasm, backed up by horse sense and persistence, is the quality that most frequently makes for success.

15. Accomplish something admirable! Instead of worrying about what people say of you, why not spend time trying to accomplish something they will admire.

16. Make the best of things! When fate hands you a lemon, make lemonade.

17. Take a chance! All life is a chance. The man who goes farthest is generally the one who is willing to do and dare.

18. Do your best! Do the very best you can.

19. Do something you believe in! Are you bored with life? Then throw yourself into some work you believe in with all your heart, live for it, die for it, and you will find happiness that you had thought could never be yours.

The 10 Sheep – A Story About Speaking Out When Necessary

Once upon a time, there was a shepherd who had 10 sheep. Every night, they would happily sleep in a field together, until one night something went wrong. When the shepherd came to gather the sheep in the morning, there was one missing. The next night the nine remaining sheep went to sleep, but once again, when the shepherd returned in the morning one was missing.

The sheep were getting worried, so the next night, Seamus the sheep kept one eye open to see what was happening. What Seamus saw was astonishing!

Just after midnight, one of the sheep started unzipping his wool, revealing a wolf underneath. The wolf approached one of the sleeping sheep, and quietly killed and ate it, before putting his sheep costume back on and going back to sleep. Seamus was still shivering with fear, when the shepherd returned to inspect his flock. When he discovered that another sheep was missing, he asked the flock if they had seen what happened, but Seamus, chose to say nothing.

The next night, Seamus decided to sleep as far away from the wolf-sheep as possible. The wolf-sheep woke up and the closest sheep was killed and eaten, leaving just 6 sheep left.

The next few nights, he did the same, until there were only two sheep left, him and the wolf-sheep.

That morning, the shepherd arrived to find just two sheep. Again, he asked what could possibly be going wrong, and this time Seamus told him what had been happening. Outraged, the shepherd managed to catch the wolf-sheep and kill it. When he returned to his lone sheep, he asked him why he didn't speak up sooner.

“I didn't think that it was any of my business, so I just kept quiet. I was hoping that the wolf would eventually get sick of sheep and go away by himself,” Seamus said, looking slightly embarrassed as he spoke.

The shepherd shook his head in exasperation, “Seamus, wolves are wolves. They don't stop, they don't change and they don't go away by themselves. They need someone to speak up so that they can be dealt with, because next time, you could be their dinner.”

Unfortunately, we live in a world full of wolves.

People who have a warped view of the world and think that it is their right to treat others poorly. Whether it's harassment, bullying, threatening behaviour or other misuses of power, we need people to have the courage to stand up and say, “Enough!”

And it doesn't matter if you are the victim or not, if you see something, say something. Let's rid the world of wolves.
