

Consultancy Club

The Consulting Club of N.M. College is a forum for the genesis, development and evolution of budding management consultants and business strategy enthusiasts. The Consulting Club aims at fostering and developing a culture of management consultancy among the greater student community. Moreover, through our initiatives we primarily focus on providing students & other learners with quality resources, guidance & a network that would enable them to venture on this path further and equip them to be a better problem solver.

This club has two wings, an internal wing and an external wing, that cater to its different needs. A Consulting Vertical and an Administrative Vertical make up the external wing, while the Resource Development Vertical makes up the internal wing. The Consulting Vertical has a team of students who are senior and assistant consultants that fulfill the client-facing roles of the club. Real-world companies and real-world problems are the focus of this group of consultants. The Administrative Vertical comprises Business Development, Human Resource, Management and the Technical Division. Training and development, social media, public relations, as well as editorials and casebooks are all part of the Resource Development Vertical.

Objectives & Motto

1. A key objective of the Consulting Club is to foster and develop a culture of management consultancy among the student body.
2. Furthermore, our initiatives are intended to provide students & other learners with quality resources, guidance & a network that would enable them to venture on this path further and become better problem solvers.
